

Editorial

Dear Readers,

Season's greetings from the editorial team of JIDS.

Journal of Interdisciplinary Dental Sciences is an online journal providing a platform for the researchers especially budding researchers to publish their scientific material.

Conducting a research is like making half of a painting. The evidence generated through research attains its value only when it is published. As quoted by a British writer Samuel Johnson- "The greatest part of a writer's time is spent in reading; in order to write: a man will turn over half a library'. I would like to urge our researchers to publish their scientific work. It not only adds to the knowledge and practice of dentistry but also provides intellectual credit publicly.

I would like to hereby acknowledge the efforts put in by the authors. We are constantly making efforts to improve the scientific quality of the articles. I thank all the authors for their kind cooperation extended during the review process.

I hope all our readers enjoy this issue with some interesting reviews and research articles.

Happy Reading!!!

With best regards,
